

Call for Team Members!

Be part of the research and audience engagement team for a new, walk through theatrical experience based on Mary Shelley's Frankenstein.

No experience necessary, open to all Purdue Students. Course credit available.

All team members will have the opportunity to create or lead a project.

There is no requirement that team members be a part of the live event, but opportunities to be directly involved are available for those interested!

Team will meet once weekly, starting early September, and continue through mid November. Meeting time is TBD.
