

SUMMER 2025
Online Distance Learning

Instructor:
Dr. Mindy Tan

For More Information:
tanh@purdue.edu

AAS 271: Introduction to African American Studies

This course will chronicle and explore African American culture and experience by examining topics such as: African American Studies as a Discipline, Historical Movements, Cultural Practices, the African Diaspora, and Contemporary Challenges/Issues relative to the African American experience. Based on the topics covered, students will be challenged to critically assess dimensions of the African American experience to uncover ways in which persons of African descent have reacted to a variety of challenges.

