This course draws from various fields (sociology, history, anthropology, ethnic studies, etc) to explore contemporary scholarship on transnationalism in theory and in practice. Materials in this course will examine—through the lens of race, ethnicity, class, and gender—individual and comparative transnational case studies from the Americas, Africa, Asia, and Europe.

Prof. Monica M. Trieu
mtrieu@purdue.edu

When: W 11:30-2:20p
Location: HEAV G4